AUTHENTIC LEARNING AND ASSESSMENT IN HIGHER EDUCATION: A RESPONSE TO ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE

Artificial intelligence, such as ChatGPT, has taken the world by storm. In a matter of moments, students can use ChatGPT and other AI tools to produce a fully developed, highly detailed and accurate paper on any given topic. Although an incredible resource intended for good, it is possible these tools can have a negative impact on student engagement and success. Therefore, instructors are encouraged to (re)think their assessment strategies to engage their students in deeper learning. This session will focus on the purpose of assessment and encourage faculty to consider introducing authentic assessment strategies to the learning environment.

COLLABORATION IS KEY

Community is an essential component of effective online learning. It is indisputable that online courses that incorporate opportunities for collaboration with peers, faculty and course content can have a significant positive impact on students' academic achievements. This week's module will feature a digital social annotation tool that facilitates this type of collaboration. If you haven't already, join the community today by scanning the QR code or following the link below!

ONLINE INSTRUCTOR LEARNING COMMUNITY

We invite all online/hybrid instructors to join ITLE's Online Instructor Tips and Tools Community.
