"MY SECOND CONVERSATION WITH CHATGPT: CAN IT BE MY TEACHING AID?"

With Chat GPT and other AI software becoming more commonplace in today's classroom, it is easy to feel like this is just another new burden on teaching. However, we could use this emerging technology to help with instruction if we look at it from another angle. Learn more in this Faculty Focus article by Nuria Lopez, Ph.D. She writes about taking a second look and reassessing the uses of AI in the classroom.

UNIVERSAL DESIGN FOR LEARNING

How do instructors answer the call to the ever-changing and diverse population of college students? One response is to develop a curriculum using the Universal Design for Learning framework. This week's module, found in the Online Instructors Canvas Learning Community, is a short introduction to this approach to teaching and learning. If you haven't already, join the community today by following the link below!

ONLINE INSTRUCTOR LEARNING COMMUNITY

We invite all online/hybrid instructors to join ITLE's Online Instructor Tips and Tools Community. Each week, a new tip or tool will be released detailing resources designed to enrich the quality of online courses. This community will also provide a space for instructors to ask and answer questions concerning best practices in online instruction. Click the link below or scan the QR code with your phone's camera to join in on the discussion!
