1. UPDATE REGARDING CANVAS

CONFERENCES

There has been changes to Canvas Conferences (also known as BigBlueButton). Videos created in Conferences on or after Sept. 1st will be stored for the duration of the semester. Additionally, new video recordings can be downloaded. To download a copy of a video: go to Conferences and open the video recording, right-click on the video (shift-click on Mac), and choose "Save video as...".

2. FACULTY READS PROGRAMS FOR FALL 2021

The Missing Course: Everything They Never Taught You about College Teaching*

by David Gooblar

Teaching commonly registers high on the list of anxiety-inducing aspects of the professoriate (Boice, 1991; Kakela, 2013; Solem & Foote, 2006; Trautmann, 2008). This should come as little surprise given that most of us are taught to be researchers during Ph.D work, but few of us are prepared to deliver effective instruction.

Enter Dr. David Gooblar, former associate director of the Center for the Advancement of Teaching at Temple University and author of The Chronicle for Higher Education's recurring column, Pedagogy Unbound. Gooblar offers sound advice for those who want to improve instruction.

Friday, Nov. 12 . . . . Chapters 6, 7, & 8

Caste: The Origins of Our Discontents*

by Isabel Wilkerson

From the publisher:

Isabel Wilkerson gives us a masterful portrait of an unseen phenomenon in America as she explores, through an immersive, deeply researched narrative and stories about real people, how America today and throughout its history has been shaped by a hidden caste system, a rigid hierarchy of human rankings.

3. SCHOLARSHIP OF TEACHING AND LEARNING FOR OSU

FACULTY – FALL 2021

OSU faculty wishing to deepen their understandings of teaching and learning are invited to participate in this six-week workshop facilitated by Drs. Kristi Dickey and Gina Morris. Structured as a fully online offering, participants can expect to work both independently and as part of a cohort while investigating:

- Strategies for creating effective lessons
- Approaches that promote student engagement
- Mechanisms for increasing student motivation
- Influences of educational theory and practice
- Components of effective instructional design
- Techniques that encourage students' active participation
- Meaningful approaches to assessment

Textbook (available through the OSU library):

Nilson, L. (2016). Teaching at Its best: A research-based resource for college instructors (4th ed.). San Francisco: Jossey-Bass.

This is a fully online offering with much of the work completed on your schedule.

Dates: Sept. 27 to Nov. 5

4. LIVESTREAMING FROM THE CLASSROOM

By using the Huddle/Avaya, and Owl cameras in classrooms across campus it is possible to livestream classroom instruction. This will help provide a means for students to keep up with their studies if they are not able to attend in person.

Microsoft Teams, which is part of Office 365 suite, is the primary videoconferencing tool supported on campus along with BigBlueButton (previously known as Canvas Conferences). Additionally, some departments have adopted Zoom (check availability with your local IT professional). The exact process for livestreaming from the classroom will depend on which streaming technology an instructor chooses and which type of camera (Huddle/Avaya or Owl) has been installed in the classroom. The videos below walk through how to livestream using the possible combination.

Self-Paced Online Teaching Workshop

This self-paced online teaching workshop covers a variety of topics such as outcome-oriented course design, engaging online learners, creating an online activity and assessment plan and more. Whether you are new to online teaching or need a refresher, this course is designed to meet your needs in a flexible format. While working through modules in the workshop, participants will create an Online Learning Assessment Portfolio, which will be submitted to the instructor upon completion of the final module. After receiving your portfolio, the instructor will set up a time to discuss your experience in the workshop with a one-on-one video conference.
